

The Vail on the Volga

Their love begins with a forbidden kiss. When Dan and Barbara end the high school production of The Desert Song with a kiss forbidden by the high school principal, they fall in love. Their love prospers through the years while she is at the Julliard School of Music and he is at Notre Dame in preparation for a career in the CIA. But when Barbara makes a sensational debut with the Metropolitan, Dan believes he will hurt her career and calls off their wedding. Barbara is broken hearted, but her star continues to rise. Dan comes to his senses and goes back to her. They are reunited, until he asks her to do a favor for the CIA. Barbara suspects that he is using her. But agrees to do the favor, believing that the KGB will never suspect her. But Valerie Kulgov is a very thorough man and learns of her relationship with a CIA agent. She is watched and detected making a pass and is about to be arrested. When Dan learns of this, he takes the next plane to the USSR. He succeeds in whisking her from under Klugov's nose and begin their adventurous flight down the Volga. Barbara proves to be as resourceful as Dan during their escape, but they need the help of Rick Deitrich, an enigmatic CIA agent, to make good their escape from the clutches of Klugov and the KGB.
